

Israel Eruchimovitch

Updated June 21, 2024

Brown University, Department of Economics, Providence, RI

Email: israel_eruchimovitch@brown.edu

Phone: +1 (401) 603 8682

Citizenship: Israeli

Education	Ph.D. Economics , Brown University	2023 – Present
	M.Sc. Economics , Technion and University of Haifa	2017 – 2020
	B.A. Economics , University of Haifa	2014 – 2017
Affiliation	Population Studies and Training Center (PSTC)
Publications	“On the Coevolution of Individualism and Institutions”
	(Joint with Moti Michaeli and Assaf Sarid) Journal of Economic Growth , 2023
Work in Progress	“Breaking Barriers, Building (on) Networks: Lessons from the Jewish Emancipation in Germany” (Joint with Assaf Sarid)
Grants	Orlando Bravo Center Grant, Brown University	January 2024
Scholarships and Awards	Roland G. D. Richardson Fellowship, Brown University	2024
	The Dean’s Prize for Outstanding Master Thesis, University of Haifa	2021
	Excellence Scholarship, Technion	2017-2020
	Master’s Scholarship for Excellence in Studies, University of Haifa	2019
	Bachelor’s Scholarship for Excellence in Studies, University of Haifa	2016-2017
Academic Activities	Referee for: Journal of Economic Growth
Research Experience	University of Haifa
	Research Assistant for Assaf Sarid	2021 – 2022
	Research Assistant for Moti Michaeli	2017 – 2018
Teaching Experience	University of Haifa
	Teaching Assistant, Macroeconomics 2 (Graduate level)	Spring 2023
	Teaching Assistant, Microeconomics 2 (Graduate level)	Spring 2022, 2023
	Lecturer, Macroeconomics 2 (Undergraduate level)	Summer 2022
	Teaching Assistant, Microeconomics 2 (Undergraduate level)	Spring 2018, 2022
Presentations	Cultural Evolution Society (CES)	September 2022
	The Political Economy of Democracy and Dictatorship (PEDD)	February 2022
	University of Haifa	June 2021

Skills

Languages: Hebrew (bilingual), Russian (bilingual), English (fluent), French (conversational), Chinese (conversational)

Programming: Python, R, \LaTeX